Elizabeth Floyd is an artist and teacher living in Alexandria, Virginia with her daughter and husband. She works in her home studio and garden, creating paintings that are firmly rooted in celebrating the seasons of the year.

Elizabeth's work is represented at the Principle Gallery | Alexandria and Galerie Kornye West.

She teaches painting classes and workshops locally at the Art League in Old Town Alexandria, VA and the Arts of Great Falls in Great Falls, VA.

As a child, Elizabeth was encouraged to explore the world with a sense of making something from nothing. Building furniture with her grandfather, constructing a stone wall with her dad, spending a quiet afternoon with her aunt sewing or painting, and helping her mother in her garden, all common activities that populated her childhood. These early experiences influence her sense of wonder and admiration for all things simple and handmade.

As she grew up, she went to school to become an architect and practiced for nine years. However, on the eve of turning 35 years old (2009) she left the architectural profession to pursue being an artist full-time. What she loved most about architecture, designing spaces to improve people's lives, she got to pursue with art, only in a more personal and individualized way.

With her art, she hopes to build personal connections through a common sense of beauty.

Because she doesn't have a formal art education, when she left architecture in 2009 she established a self-directed study plan to parlay the strong observational and sketching skills from being an architect towards mastering representational oil painting. She gained proficiency by attending local arts classes and workshops, and by copying masterpieces at the National Gallery of Art in Washington DC.

The years since leaving architecture have been rewarding. She has had the privilege of creating still-life paintings and portraits that find their homes in private and public collections. She has received recognition in local and international art exhibitions and competitions. In addition, her work has been published in several printed art publications.

Elizabeth's daily life is filled with creative activities, such as drawing and painting, sharing my knowledge through teaching, and living with intention.

SAG's COVID Precautions and Steps for Safety

The Board is excited to welcome back the SAG members to in-person meetings at Grace Church starting on September 14, 2022 after 2 years of alternative methods which we are grateful for as well as your patience and participation. Our first meeting is a critique which most of us are happy to receive help on a stuck, not quite finished painting.

That being said, we know that some members may be hesitant to come back to in person meetings. We have discussed at the last Board meeting what will be done to protect the Guild members as much as possible. Here are the things we are going to do and ask of you.

- 1 - Hand Sanitizer will be available to use. (You may use your own)
- 2 - Wearing masks is optional (We know not everyone can or is willing to wear one & this virus mutates frequently) Use your judgement.
- 3 - We will space the chairs further apart than pre-COVID. (feel free to move yours further apart)
- 4 - Name Tags will be handed out by Cynthia Schoepel. These will not be collected at the end of the meeting. They will then become your responsibility to take home and bring back to each monthly meeting. Paper sticky backed name tags will be provided for those who are Guests.
- 5 - There will be no Hospitality food or drink available by the Guild. (You may bring your own food and drink if you wish and the church auditorium does have a soda machine)
- 6 - We will not have Books or DVD Library for now but that may change later
- 7 - Chairs, microphone, etc. will be wiped down.

SAG Members Will Use Online App for Art Shows and Other Uses

Long time SAG member, Cynthia Shoepel, introduced us to the online application, Jotform (jotform.com) for our previous Green Spring Gardens art show and it worked out so well we have decided to use it for future shows and other online needs. We just upgraded to the paid plan for the year. We found the application worked fantastic last year for the Green Spring Gardens show submissions.

Many of you might already be familiar with this application, since it's used by other arts organizations and art calls. It easily collects submissions for art shows and will help us save time and work by creating the spreadsheets and organizing the images.

We are planning to schedule a zoom meeting for members who want to learn more about Jotform and how to submit your art for the upcoming shows--virtual and in person. The Green Spring Gardens show is right around the corner.

The board does not want this to keep you from entering any shows. Please reach out to one of the board members, like danica.bodytalk@gmail.com, if you need help with the tech side of submitting for the SAG art shows.

“Learning to Sketch in Nature” debuts at Lake Accotink Park

I’m so excited that Lake Accotink Park is offering Learning to Sketch in Nature, Sat., Oct 8, 12:30-2:00p.m.

The park’s new Naturalist, Matt Rine, an artist himself, developed this new class. He will lead a short hike through the park so students can observe and sketch nature during one of the loveliest times of the year. His goal is to help participants improve their sketching and nature journaling as they practice shading, form and other skills. He hopes to offer this class regularly, sketching with different themes or topics depending on the season. Please consider joining me, SAG member Elaine Sevy, in registering and supporting his plan to offer this class and future field sketching opportunities at LAP.

Use the following link to register. Type the class name -- Learning to Sketch in Nature -- in the Text box to take you directly to it:

Some of the other Sketch Hike and Drawing Nature classes still have a few openings:

Huntley Meadows Park: Margaret Wohler is teaching Sketch Hikes Poetry and Fall Color Snap Sketch Hikes.

Use the following link to scroll down to each class to register:

Here's some of the photos Matt Rhine, the naturalist leading the class, sent me of his artwork. I really like the Blue bird. He told me he considers himself more a naturalist than an artist.

Join us on Wednesdays!

We heard SAG members say they were having trouble getting motivated to paint at home and the idea of having a virtual open studio was born. Most of us are also looking for ways to increase our social activities safely these days, this is a two for one! This is a zoom session where we can get together, chat, do our art, and ask for input on our work! Those who have participated have enjoyed the companionship and added incentive to get back to their art. There is no size limit to this group, if we get too big for one chat, we can just add another "room" and have too smaller groups!

When: Wednesdays from 1- 2:30pm

Where: On Zoom - SAG members meet on Weds to work on any art project of their choosing. The zoom link is always the same and is sent weekly to all members by email

What's is all about??

It's a virtual get-together giving everyone a chance to work on their personal art in a group setting for inspiration, encouragement and to just have fun chatting, and painting or drawing again.

Come join us you'll be glad you did!
